LOCATION

The MTC POROS RESORT is sheltered in Hellenic Navy’s installations, located at the island of Poros, which is 31 n.m. far from Piraeus port. Also, from Athens the distance to Poros, by car, is approximately 160 km. Through the National Road Athens-Korinthos, just after the Corinth Canal, exit to Epidavros. From Epidavros, reach the place Kalloni and about in 15 min reach Galata, that is across Poros Island. To cross to Poros with your car, you have to transport it with Ferry Boat in 5 min.
The History of the Hellenic Navy is deeply rooted in the history of MILITARY TRAINING CAMP POROS. In this island the Hellenic Navy firstly organized immediately after the establishment of the independent Hellenic State, in the third decade of the 19th century.

On 1827, there was established a Naval Base named «GENERAL EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTION OF POROS». On this very area the creation of Naval Shipyards has started.

On 1878, the Naval Shipyards has been transferred to Salamis Naval Base and Poros has been used as a Training Center for conscripts, called «CENTRAL RECRUIT SCHOOL». Further on, since the beginning of World War II, the following commands have been established in the Central Recruit School: the Recruit Training Centers, the Advanced Training Centers and the Headquarters of Naval Training Squadron.

After the end of the World War II, the «Recruit Training Center» was reestablished, since 1952.

On the other hand, from 1897 to 1991 the Poros Training Center has been used as a Petty Officers’ Training School, having several names, such as: «Ship boy’s School», «Petty Officers School».

For the time being, the Recruit Training Center is used as a Recruit School, named «Military Training Camp Poros».
